How is Canyon View Jr. High Performing in each Component?

STATE WIDE ASSESSMENTS

In the spring of 2018, students took one or more SAGE assessments measuring their knowledge and skills of the Utah Core Standards. These standards reflect the knowledge and skills students need to succeed in careers and in college. This year's reporting system has changed, there is no longer a school grade. There is however a gauge showing how well CVJH is performing. When it came to achievement and growth of students in core classes CVJH was in the typical range. This means that we were very typical to other schools with the same demographics. A highlight last year was the success we had with English Language Learners. We received an exemplary rating for the progress this group made. We also scored well in Math this year receiving a higher performance score than the year previous. Great things are happening with academics at Canyon View Junior High School. Take a look below at the interventions we use to help ALL students succeed in their education.

INTERVENTIONS AT CVJH

What is an INTERVENTION?

A response to intervention, also known as RTI, is an approach to academic intervention used to provide early, systematic, and appropriately intensive assistance to students who are at risk for or already under-performing as compared to appropriate grade- or age-level standards. RTI seeks to promote academic success through universal screening, early intervention, frequent progress monitoring, and increasingly intensive research-based instruction or interventions for children who continue to have difficulty. RTI is a multileveled approach for aiding students that is adjusted and modified as needed.

PTSA is a way for parents, teachers, and students to work together for educational success. Some activities include; Family Fun Run, Summer Reading Program, helping with hearing testing, vision screenings, parent teacher conference, CARES Counsel, Red Ribbon Week, Spirit Week, Award dinners, Reflections just to name a few. Make sure you get involved and become a member of the Canyon View Junior PTSA. By participating you can BE more involved in your school community and more importantly your students community.

LEADING THE WAY THROUGH INNOVATION

Character Education

Canyon View will continue a character education program entitled "Project Wisdom". It addresses such issues as bullying, honesty, responsibility, etc.

Individual teachers will reinforce positive solutions through lesson plans available with the program.

CVJH Homeroom

In order to provide students every opportunity to be successful CVJH has initiated a structured homeroom remediation program. Tuesday—Friday students remediate during homeroom for 25 minutes. This remediation program gives all students access and opportunity to augment what they are learning in the classroom and improve their academic performance. Putting remediation time back into the classroom gives teachers the time they need to ensure content is delivered in a targeted manner and gives students the opportunity to work with every one of their teachers. We hope that this new approach to remediation will have a dramatic and immediate affect on individual student achievement.

Junior Latinos In Action

Latinos in Action is to empower youth to be college and career ready through culture, service, leadership and excellence in education. Most importantly, Latinos in Action is an avenue that allows students to develop and further their bilingual talents. Latinos in Action is a leadership opportunity for students to work together by seeking state and district partnerships in an effort to support and improve their academic performance and their college readiness. They engage in service leadership activities, including: serving their younger peers as role models at Orchard Elementary, mentoring and tutoring.

PLC Professional Learning COMMUNITIES

What are teachers doing to improve their instruction!

Teachers work hard to improve the classroom experience for ALL students.

This includes being part of a professional learning community. Teachers meet every Monday for so much more than just a meeting. Each teacher brings data to these Monday meetings to learn from each other. This process includes asking these four essential questions:

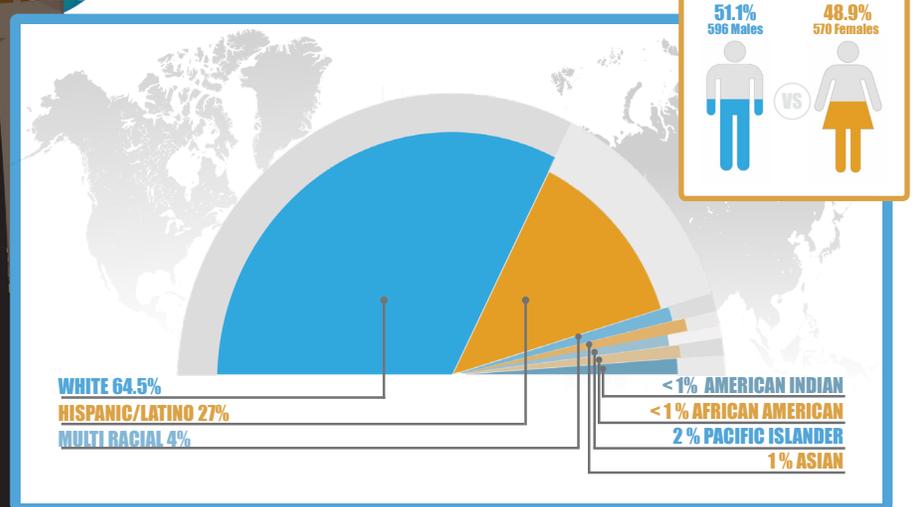

- 1 What do we expect students to learn?
- 2 How will we know what students have learned?
- 3 How will we respond to students who are not learning?
- 4 How will we respond to students who already know?

Teachers work to clarify their curriculum and create meaningful common assessments and lessons. Data from the assessments is used by teachers to improve instruction.
