Looking for strengths and weaknesses, comparisons with District and State. Further breakdown of data is necessary and anticipated. Council discussed how to get parents this information and data, and the possibility of including it in the Stakeholder report, or any other way we can educate parents on SAGE testing, the data, and how it helps to improve education. How can teachers use this data? Breakdown for specific areas?

Assessment Data Presentation by Ryan –

New core this year for Foreign Language ACTFL (American Council of the Teaching of Foreign Language). Dept uses “Passports” where students use language , conversation quizzes, student rating charts, Mastery Connect trackers, written assessments, post exam tracking sheets. Students are speaking the language more, using grammar for communication. These implementations support other subjects, allowing our Language students to constantly find connections in other subjects.
