

Mr. Miller

I was born in Provo while my parents went to BYU, but was raised in the Army. We moved around a lot and I've been lucky to have lived in Germany, Japan, and various states in the USA. I earned my BA in International Studies at BYU with a minor in Latin American studies, then did my MA in Latin America History/Education at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff. I taught Spanish and US History in private and charter schools in Arizona for 6 years before coming to teach at Oak Canyon in 2012. I've been married for 19 years and have a son who is a senior at Mountain View and a daughter who is a 9th grader at Oak Canyon. My favorite food is Latino food (especially Mexican and Peruvian) and my favorite music is oldies rock.
